Leadership & Team Collaboration

I enjoy leading processes and working closely with cross-functional teams. I've led quarterly planning, sprint coordination, and OKR setting to drive focused, goal-oriented progress. I take care to delegate tasks in a way that supports both team productivity and individual growth.

I conduct code reviews and technical interviews with a focus on maintaining high standards and building strong, cohesive teams. I'm passionate about a product-oriented mindset, ensuring our work aligns with real user needs and business goals. Mentoring junior developers, encouraging clean code and continuous learning, and fostering a positive, collaborative team culture are all central to how I work.
